Any chance of releasing glib and gettext libraries on OS4Depot?

Glib is a dependency of gnash and gettext is needed for glib so I assume you should have both of these compiled already.

At the moment there are several projects that I can't compile for OS4 as I don't have these libs. I've tried compiling them myself but so far I've only managed to compile gettext (no idea if it's working or not). Probably there are other developers who would find them useful as well.
