@ChrisH

Glad it's working OK for most people.

This new version seems almost identical to the old one from my perspective

Nothing really has changed interface / usage wise. 😊

The effort has gone fixing bugs and improving the sound quality (where resampling is involved). The default plugins have been improved as well, MP3 playback has Xing / iTunes Gapless support, and the AIFF encoder now writes correct headers.

Next up is further audio improvements (I'm testing the audio compressor and filters at the moment) and more bug fixes!

Glad it's been a pretty painless upgrade for most.

@Snuffy; I haven't ruled out back porting this to OS4.0 (minus some GUI features), but my interest is really in getting this ship shape and working well. I want to release version 1.0 one day! 😊

Cheers,
Bean.
