I have no linux box at moment , and more of it i have no skills with MUI coding at all. Maybe after i will fix LunaPaint (which is MUI based) , then i will know more about, but for now, it will be no make sense even to try to compile it ..

I also ask fab about "maybe better to rip-off download manager code and put to os4 version of owb", but , i forget that aos4 version are reaction based, and dunno can we mix reaction and mui in one program.
