If only there was an adequate, skilled and motivated coder, morphos's version of OWB already should be on aos4 :)

Yes, moreover if there were less red fanatics againts anythings MUI related ...

just can't understand, how joerg can say in clear mind, that download manager its not important for browser today.

Never mind, also you can't save a page decently, you can't open even a simple popup window, you can't manage a bookmark, you can't show an history, you can't do pratically anythings on OWB Reaction ...

but also because Fab are pretty good man , without star fever and it always easy to communicate and talk with him.

Yes I have to agree ...
