@Chris

I have installed the 3.0-dev version and am sorry to say that it shows the same behaviour it did with the old version i tried before 😞

When i open web.de NS opens an empty window in the size of the program window right on top of NS and completely dead-locks the whole machine

Other websites are by far more useable and feels faster too than the old version i tried, but it's unuseable for me due to the dead-locks on certain sites

Anyway, keep on, i'll keep an eye on this space
