While we already in offtopic: When CodeBench can be purchased ? Why i ask, because free versions are 10 seconds pause for start, that is annoy so much, that can't be usable for fast work :(Of course it possible to crack it , and remove the counter, but i better will pay for full-version. Or maybe i can somehow grab from you full-current-version ?:)

Btw, i also ask you about "it is possible to run only editor of codebench" , maybe you can think about that feature as well ? It will be very cool to put on "F4" in dopus running of Editor of Codebench, which will runs in a micro-second , and you will have good, cool, code-editor (which are best for now, because of many little features , which other ones are lack).
