I have all 4 SATAs filled

1 DVDRW

1 TB Harddrive 1 partition with JXFS

1 500g Harddrive 1 partition with JXFS

1 350g Harddrive 2 partiton 10g Boot in SFS1 and rest download partition with JXFS

I've been using JXFS for months and before that SFS2 and never had any problems.

I also format with NORECYCLED, I'm not sure if this adds to the stability of the partitions but I think it probably does... if you're afraid of deleting the wrong thing then slow down 🙄 On occassion I delete the wrong file and even the wrong directory, it's never a major but it is annoying, but I don't care the benefits I think outweigh human error...

adios!
