It is certainly not worth the effort of firing up that slow diabolical monstrosity OWB which brings my 1260MHz A1 down to a crawl.

Something are wrong for you in terms of setup looks like .. For me OWB runs almost the same by speed as IB (i think on 1 second slower). And exit faster (just because no cache-cleanup). Dunno why you stack in the past and what sites you visit with IB.. for me all the sites which i visit in last days, works only in OWB, and be in hope that they will works on something which very old and unsupported (IB) .. dunno.

Maybe its just some fetish , like "i want to visit amiga sites from ibrowse, and does not care about any other solutions" ?:)
