Mate it looks great !!

Do you think it could be possible to implement a bit more native GUI already in this first Alpha version ?
(expecially menus)

Alfkil did it quite easily for his QT port so maybe it could be possible also on Timberwolf

Also how about the real speed ?

Ok you say a bit slow, yep currently i think it's quite normal for that HTML5 videos but how about "normal" navigation ?

Once released can be already usable on a slow hardware (like Sam440 for example) ?

Thanks a lot and congrats !
