I don't know why people are demanding loads of extra features for the first (proper) TW release. Do they actually want to see TW this year, or would they like to wait another year?!? 😞

"Feature creep" should be avoided at all costs. I am quite happy to see a basically functioning release, even if it lacks some spit & polish. After all, I am happily using the first release of the OS4 port of MUI-OWB, and that has it's share of little quirks (not to mention being way behind the official release).

"Nice to have but not necessary" features (e.g. cosmetic stuff like Amiga-like menus) can be added later.

I now await someone to say first release of TW should be based on FF 7.0, instead of the current FF 4.0.1 :(
