Looks faster on my Flex and even a bit more stable, that's great !

However i have a few question:

Does issue 734 (drag&drop) and 756 (Automatic auto-allineament issue) fixed ?

I ask because i try to drop a txt or a readme text file over the browser but nothing happen (i have the usual X pointer) and when i open a subwindow this will be opened at certain position and then will be centered automatically as before

So that bugs that was marked as fixed in bugtracker in reality does not seems fixed .. or i miss somethings

Also download still not work, i try to download Hurrican from OS4Depot, the download window will be opened but no file was showed inside it, no file, no progress advancement ecc .. only a blank download window ... then after i while i got this popup error:

:hurrican.lha could not be saved, because an unknown error occurred.
Try saving to a different location.
