I'm a regular bounty supporter and I do believe in crowd-sourcing as the way to finance the development of AmigaOS and its software. However, I have a question for the AmigaBounty team: how on earth can you ever give the green light to a project like this? Yes VPDF would be nice but how can you start asking for money for a project that has no description, no milestones, no deadline? Opening half-cooked projects really devalues bounty financing and makes AmigaBounty.net look unprofessional.
