Indeed your board repair history is very long:

1 - the assembly facility were moving to a new place

2 - we tried to reflow the gfx chip, but this didn't worked

3 - then we didn't find M9 replacement chips from a reliable source quickly

4 - when finally the M9 chips arrived, there was the earthquake where the assembly facility is located

We hope to have the board repaired "soon", now that all the pieces are at their places...
