Ok, that mean you can do the same with our AmigaOS port ?

How often do you click on those? 😞

I'd like to keep them separate from the browsing experience, because that's a pop-up requester.

By the way since 3.0-dev i noted that some HTML links on the welcome.html page are broken

The broken links are:

- documentation
- download
- contact

Not so important but ..

More important than the above! Looks to be a problem on all the non-English translations. Report it on the bugtracker or, better, fix it and post the patch there instead.
