However still crashing in both method now (starting from WB menu or just double click from the AmiUpdate icon) :-/

Starting it from the Workbench menu last night, it ran for me, and (ultimately) worked OK. But it said it had to update Amiupdate first, for which I had to go through and make 12-15 assigns from requester windows for a bunch of utility and prefs items. Once those were all made, it put the actual updates (Workbench library, Sketchblock, and pci card) in the proper drawer according to my prefs, and unpacked them, ready for installing.
