OK, until somebody tells me it is crawling along (which they haven't yet), I'm going to assume !SICK is misreporting.

Attached is !ARMSi. I'm not sure if it reports correctly on ArcEm, but I'm getting about 8.3 MIPS here and it is changing every time I recalculate, so I think it might be.

It can be extracted straight into HostFS from the Amiga side.

Perhaps we'll get some more sensible results with this.
