sftp and ftps can't be mounted, plain ftp can be. sftp is basically ssh/scp. I can't remember what ftps is (might be SSL encrypted ftp, nearly nobody uses it anyway)

Anyway, I found out the main problem with beta3 - updates to libssl had stopped my previous neon build from working with SSL. I've rebuilt neon and it is now working again. I'll upload a new beta when I've implemented the new examine packets (although when that'll be is anybody's guess). Until then, please use beta2 (for https sites) and ignore beta3.

Note that MyDrive works fine in non-encrypted (http) mode and therefore works with beta3 (barring previously-reported issues). Most other sites require encryption.
