There will be no any kind of installation, it will be pure unpack and dbl-click on icon, nothing else. If one will want to make it as wb-replacement, there will be just simple .txt which will say how to do it. For sure we will not loose time on installation scripts for now. In end, no one will need to worry about any opensource keys, everything will works out of box. But for those who prefer to have their old regs, they can just put their registration modules. And to make them works its all was ported and fixed too.

There will be nothing new at all (only os4 mouse wheel + new gadgets) in first release. Everything will be the same as original. Later if/when/then anything can be changed, but not for first release. Goals of first release fully ported stuff just without anything new, to avoid any new bugs and broken stuff.

If one, can help, you can join, discuss with us all the stuff, do some code and co. Seeing how everything slow now in amiga world, i feel that making first release like this will be for sure right, or there is chances to make no release at all ever. If anyone will have any time or interest to do something later, then good, nope - then there still will be fully ported/bug fixed dopus5 and it will works as works original.

For now we have just few bugs left, even now its all can be released, just do not want to hear about bugs about which we know already.
