FWIW, I took the atheros card to my office, plugged it into my A1-XE and it's mostly working here. This is with the v15 driver from OS4Depot.

The only drawback is that I have to cold boot and then warm boot to get the machine started with the card in, but I think this may be a problem with UBoot variables.

If this happens when the driver isn't started during boot, then you're probably right. Thanks for doing the tests.
