An update on the A1-XE:

Last week I got the WPN311 installed and running on my A1-XE and thought I'd leave it online and pinging overnight to see how things go...

Instead it got a bit longer term test... I never got back to the office last week and my Amiga ran all weekend with the WPN311 up & pinging away.

I'm glad to report everything is still working today (~96 hours later), my Amiga is still online and ping still running. I'm looking forward to seeing this on my SAM and X1K!

;)

Thanks ncafferkey!
