I thought of that (taking a grabshot from my camera) as after the DSI error I couldn't do anything, just to move the mouse pointer around and that's all.

Either way, don't ask me, I managed to remove the old CPUInfo.docky and everything seems fine right now. If it will happens again, I will snap a grab, but as I said, I cannot enter the crashlog as nothing is working after the DSI error.
