Try to update the date on each release or it will be very difficult to help some people to check which version they have.

You have no needs to worry or use it, its for zzd10h directly. When time will come i will say by another fastfix.

As javier says: conf/misc.prefs/panelweight=30 (change 30 on any you need)

i have tried to upload the picture to directupload.net

Only visiting this site caused here a 100%CPU usage and a lock up of Odyssey

Can't test myself now, but if anyone can compare with morphos version that will be good to see if it port bugs or original ones.

When you run multiple Odyssey windows, and when you select to open a link in new tab it always opens it in the initial Odyssey window and not the current one. I don't remember if this was a problem in the previous version as well.

That one need to test on mos, but looks a bit weird yep.
