When you run multiple Odyssey windows, and when you select to open a link in new tab it always opens it in the initial Odyssey window and not the current one. I don't remember if this was a problem in the previous version as well.

Something wrong somewhere (like with your mui setting maybe, or with odyssey's settings ?) , because i tried it right now, and all works as expected. I.e. i have run 3 versions of odyssey. And in each of them when i do on any link "open in new tab", new tab opens in exactly that window in which i choice, and not in first one as seems happens for you.
