i dont know , but 360p video become more fluid and enjoyable
im using spoof as Firefox 3.6 windows

Placebo imho. Or as wild guess: its all because that you plays with different spoofing, which bring different players, which have different speed. And just on previous version it was like this, on new one you change some settings/scripts(and settigs)/spoofing.

So its youtube. Then what you use to watch youtube: fab's youtube.js, youtube-center, or no scripts at all ? Can you make screenshot of odyssey when you have a crash ? (i want to be 101% sure what player it show for you when crash, what scripts in use (if any) and co).

ah i forget i dont know why on amigaos side owb dont load some graphic part and preview of youtube.

I don't know too :) But i have guess : probably because you use something different in compare with odyssey on morphos: different spoofing, different scripts or whatever. For example if you use different kind of spoofing, youtube previews looks different too. Probably on morphos you check when you do no spoofing, but with aos4 when you do spoofing by chrome or something else. Thats reassons why previes/graphics may looks different.
