I found a visual glitch/bug in the download window.

Could be OWB itself, could be MUI, i don't really know.

Steps to reproduce:

- 1) Download something big and let the window come up.
- 2) Resize the window to make it as small as possible.
- 3) Now use the bottom scroll panel to reach the missing information, like progress, detail, speed etc.
--> The information is missing, nothing is rendered there
- 4) Now resize the window again
--> Everthing is back to normal

I'd like to ask if a redraw of the window can be added when one is scrolling with the bottom scroll panel (probably both scroll panels have the same problem) because i'm not really fond of the fact i need to resize the download window every time a download with a long filename takes place.

EDIT:

Oh yes and one more thing in the Downloads window

If one resizes it to the minimum, one can click only ONCE on the arrows beside the tabs.
It will work once but then no more.

i.e. switching from the "In Progress" tab to the "Finished" tab --> it will be stuck at the "Finished" tab until one resizes again to make the window bigger
