Anyone who has my builds, if you are going to report issues to Rachy (Almos), then please check his own builds first.

My X1000 build is not tuned or built specifically for G5, but is using a G5 define (`_ARCH_PWR4`) which `m68kops.h` sees and avoids using "mcrxr".

In the future I can just have it detect X1000, and not have multiple builds.

Actually building it for G5 CPUs makes the mouse inverted, and probably some other issues as well. PA6T obviously isn't completely G5 compatible.
