Leave your app window in place and scream the Hack^H^H^H^HDOpus devs to fix their bugs.

I was a great fan of DOpus5 in the old days on my A1200 but I hated the way it broke newer features in the OS due to it's patch happy coding approach.

Now it's open source these things an be addressed, though ofcourseit it takes time, but by working around the issues you reduce the motifivation to fix them (same is true in the OS to an extent as well I suppose).
