A-EON are now the owners of Amiga.org and Amigaworld.net sending the paranoid even more paranoid.

They have also bought the rights to various Amiga apps for further development on Amiga systems. So far they have released an OS4 native version of Personal Paint along with an updated 68k version. ImageFX, OctaMED and Aladdin4D will also get native and updated releases.

The Odyssey web browser was ported from MorphOS and now you can watch youtube videos in your browser.

Amiboing have released a few more games. Battle Squadron was remade for OS4 and MorphOS and we have a new developer, Cherry Darling who have been busy making games too.

MorphOS now runs on Sam460 so the Pegasos2 is no longer the only system that can run both.
